

ELECTION 2018-19

Until they turn 18 and can vote, students are largely left out of the democratic process. No more! BIS arranged an open forum of 'Election' for students to empower them and vote their conscience, and learn the whole process of voting along the way and make the school a better place.

Vote

July 30, 2018: Well, the whole process started up with 'Nomination' for different posts such as head boy/girl, sports captain, cultural head, editorial board head, house captains, etc. This time the enthusiasm among the learners for participation was remarkable. Second step was 'Public Speaking' which is one of the most imperative parts of the whole process. The participants came up with the best of the reasons why people should vote for them. They talked about the specific areas that can be improved in the school. Each and every participant delivered their speech not merely to impress the audience but also to express their concern towards school and its escalation. After this essential step, came the turn of 'Interaction with Management team'. While talking to authority figures, the young leaders spoke about their vision for school and strategies to make it better even more leaving no option for them to doubt their caliber and competence for the selected post. Simultaneously, they created their campaign teams to advertise themselves and encouraged their network to bring in more friends to support them. Ultimately, there was voting day today, the final day for their all the hard work and efforts that they put in during the whole process. Overall, a day full of enthusiasm and uncertainty.
