Summarized Content:-

On 18th of July red color day activity was conducted in class playgroup. This day was great fun for all kids and was designed to help the tiny toddlers to identify red colour, talk about it and think about how red color enhances and influences their lives. The children did ear bud impression in the strawberry. The children came to school dressed in the red color to highlight red color day and they also brought objects – toys, fruits and vegetables of red color. The main aim behind conducting this activity was to introduce the kids with red color.
