Summer Vacations are just around the corner, and we know how excited the kids must be. And why not, the vacations, after all, is the most awaited part of the year for the students. It gives them a break from the monotonous daily routine and gives them the opportunity to try new and interesting things that they didn't get time for.

However, summer vacations can be considered spent well only if kids are able to strike a balance between enjoyment and learning. Summer vacations must not be considered as a break from learning. Actually, that's what the essence of the vacation is, learning disguised as fun and enjoyment.

Some tips to make this summer different:-

- An ideal time to polish up some hobby that gets neglected during school days.
- Visit any good bookshop of the city and select books of your level. Read them well.
- Go for walk with the family.
- Do some physical exercise like cycling, play badminton, cricket.
- Spend qualitative time with your grandparents and listen about their childhood from them.
- Read news paper daily.

Do's

- Wake up early and develop a morning routine. Do yoga, meditation or just a brisk walk.
- Start learning a new skill like painting, dance, music or public speaking.
- Play games, sports and do a lot of physical activity, but only during the morning and evening hours.
- Visit your cousins, or plan a trip with family.
- Help out your parents in family chores, and learn some useful skills that way.
- Make sure to be consistent with the holidays' homework. Avoid completing it for the last day!
- Eat good food, drink plenty of water, and have lots of fun!

Don'ts

- Do not waste all your time to play video games and/or mobile games.
- Don't go out during the hours of peak sunshine. Try some interesting indoor activities.
- Do not oversleep, and do not let laziness take you over. Stay active during the vacations.

Out of difficulties grow miracles. Tough time doesn't last.

QB-Read the passage and answer the following questions:

The culture of nuclear families is fashionable. Parents are often heard complaining about the difficulties of raising children these days. Demand for too much freedom, too much independence; during night parties; excessive extravagance, wasting pocket money; there is no time for studies and the family all this is a common cry of this type of families. Aren't the parents themselves responsible for this sorry state? The basic need of a growing youth is family, love, care and bonding along with moral values. It should not be forgotten that "charity begins at home".

Both independence and individuality must be respected to maintain the sanctity of the family. Children today must be handled tactfully to bridge the ever-widening generation gap. Only reasonable demands should be met, as there are too many expenses to cover and too many social obligations to be taken care of by the parents. Our ancestors lived happily in close-knit families. The children loved living with their cousins, they learned to adapt to their means. There was perfect harmony between the generations. The concept of nursing homes never existed. There was deep respect for the elders in the family and love, care and concern for the young. Even small family differences were resolved amicably.

Answer the questions:

Question: 1. Mention any two major common concerns of a nuclear family.

Answer-1

Question: 2. Who, according to the passage, are responsible for them ?

Answer-2

Question: 3. Explain the expression 'charity begins at home'.
